DETAILS:

Employments

Group W Productions, Incorporated (Group W)
Westinghouse Broadcasting Company
Royal Manhattan Hotel
Eighth Avenue and 45th Street
New York, New York

The following investigation was conducted on July 15, 1969:

Inquiry at Group W, 240 West 44th Street, elicited the information that employment records for this organization are maintained at the firm's Business Offices, now located on the Third Floor of the Royal Manhattan Hotel, captioned address.

Mrs. [redacted] captioned address, reviewed the contract maintained for ROGER E. AILES, Social Security Number 293-34-9192, last address 423 Oak Valley Road, Media, Pennsylvania, and extracted therefrom the following information:

b6 -4
b7C -4

AILES, then residing at 17400 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, was signed on June 18, 1962, for services with "The Mike Douglas Show", KYW-TV, Cleveland, Ohio, exact title not indicated but, most likely, as Producer's Assistant. Sometime in 1965, "The Mike Douglas Show" moved to and thereafter emanated from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. AILES, as Producer-Director, continued his connection with that production until July, 1968, when he left to serve the NIXON for President Committee, headquartered in New York City, as a television producer and special media consultant to President RICHARD M. NIXON. In December, 1968, AILES returned to Group W in New York City, worked on his own towards developing ideas for possible future television productions, completed his contract, and, in January, 1969, voluntarily terminated his connection with this organization to initiate and develop his own independent television production firm, REA Productions, Incorporated, 888 Eighth Avenue, New York City. He is eligible for rehire.

NY 161-3131

Mrs. [redacted] revealed she was [redacted] with the appointee [redacted] as a result of his visits from Philadelphia over the years to this office and, of course, during his short-lived work assignments in New York City during December, 1968, and January, 1969. She described appointee as an extremely bright, personable, eminently successful, productive and talented professional, "a wonderful young dynamo", the antithesis of the show-business stereotype, always considerate and pleasant, mature, unaffected, even-tempered, and, in general, "a delightful, a real nice man". Mrs. [redacted] offered wholehearted support of appointee's choice for a position of trust and confidence with the United States Government.

b7C -4

Mr. [redacted] captioned organization, disclosed that, for some time following appointee's affiliation with Group W's "The Mike Douglas Show" in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1962, he was familiar with appointee only as a name appearing in communications received at this headquarters office from other personnel in Cleveland and Philadelphia, and, since AILES was only in his late twenties and just out of college when he joined this organization, he found it somewhat difficult to accept at face value the individual glowingly evaluated therein by older and experienced television professionals. Personal contacts with AILES over the years in Philadelphia and New York City and opportunities to observe him first hand producing "The Mike Douglas Show" in Philadelphia allayed his initial reservations and convinced him that AILES is a legitimate phenomenon. Unquestionably brilliant and talented, personable, aggressive without being offensive, hardworking and, most amazingly, a surprisingly and truly creative professional

b6 -4
b7C -4

NY 161-3131

for one so young. AILES has consistently evidenced and utilized such gifts to record notably successful careers with Group W and the NIXON for President Committee and to earn the respect, if not actual awe, of his professional colleagues. Recognition of appointee's abilities, creativity, competence, personal acumen and engaging personality, said [redacted] overrides the qualms one might ordinarily entertain watching a man still under thirty years of age launch his own television production firm in certainly one of the most competitive and riskiest businesses extant. Rather, in this instance, one feels confident the appointee, as REA Productions, Incorporated, will continue his demonstrated record for success.

b7C -4

[redacted] noted that his contacts over the years with AILES, almost exclusively, have been professional in nature. He is not acquainted with appointee's family members.

Since he retains unqualified respect for appointee's character, loyalty, reputation, associates and recognizes him as a gifted man in the field of television production, an area in which President RICHARD M. NIXON, it would appear to him, anticipates utilizing appointee's services, [redacted] considers AILES eminently suited for such a position.

b6 -4
b7C -4

[redacted] concluded with the information that no additional current staff members at Group W's New York City office had experienced personal work contacts with appointee.

REA Productions, Incorporated (REA)
Suite 7-P
888 Eighth Avenue
New York, New York

Miss [redacted] captioned concern, advised on July 15, 1969, she has served as [redacted] to ROGER EUGENE AILES for the past month. REA (representing appointee's initials) was incorporated in January, 1969,

b6 -4
b7C -4

NY 161-3131

for television production, following AILES' service as special media consultant to President RICHARD M. NIXON during the 1968 presidential campaign, with appointee as president and his wife, MARJORIE, [redacted] as officers. The only additional active employees with REA are Miss [redacted] who serves as [redacted] appointee, and who, for the next several weeks, can be contacted in care of "The Dennis Wholey Show" (television), Taft Broadcasting Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, one of appointee's clients, and the aforementioned Mr. [redacted] who represents REA in Washington, D.C., street address unknown, telephone number [redacted]

b6 -4
b7C -4

Miss [redacted] revealed appointee and his wife continue to maintain their permanent residence at 423 Oak Valley Road, Media, Pennsylvania, and that appointee, when necessary in conducting business in this area, utilizes the sleeping accommodations provided as part of this suite for overnight stays. However, appointee's business efforts, which require much personal attention, necessitate extensive travel throughout the United States and absences from this office.

b6 -4
b7C -4

Her own work with appointee, although of brief duration, according to Miss [redacted] has been a delightful and rewarding experience. She described appointee as one of the most brilliant, straightforward, intellectually and professionally honest and stimulating, considerate man she has ever known. He supports and encourages his subordinates to the hilt, countenances no discourtesy or displays of ill temper by clients towards the office staff, and is an exemplar relative to working diligently, efficiently, productively and calmly under pressure. He is intensely loyal to President NIXON and a dedicated champion of President NIXON's aims and aspirations for this country.

b6 -4
b7C -4

In connection with her last comment, Miss [redacted] volunteered, she had been an adherent of and active campaigner for Senator EUGENE MC CARTHY during his unsuccessful 1968 campaign to secure the Democratic Party's presidential nomination. Such opposing political interests on her part, she explained, have in no way dimmed the admiration and respect she has developed in a few short weeks for her employer's talent, myriad abilities, character, loyalty, reputation and associates. Consequently, her confidence in AILES' suitability for appointment to a position of trust and responsibility with the United States is boundless.

b6 -4
b7C -4

NY 161-3131

Miss [redacted] suggested the following individuals as [redacted] of the appointee who would be in positions to offer pertinent comments concerning appointee:

b6 -4
b7C -4

Mr. BENNETT A. CERF, well-known television personality and publisher, Random House, New York City, whom she also identified as a principal investor in REA

Mr. FRANK SHAKESPEARE, Director, Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, D.C., (listed as associate by appointee)

Mr. LEONARD GARMENT, current member of President RICHARD M. NIXON's White House staff

Mr. HARRY TRELLEMAN, co-chairman, Republican National Committee, Washington, D.C.

Mr. BENNETT A. CERF, Publisher, Random House, Incorporated, 12th Floor, 201 East 50th Street, New York, New York, furnished the following information on July 15, 1969:

He first became acquainted with ROGER EUGENE AILES approximately two years ago while AILES was producing "The Mike Douglas Show" for television, emanating in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and experienced professional contacts with AILES thereafter as a result of several appearances on that show, including one stint as co-host of the show, which entailed one complete week of appearing on the show and working with its staff. His initial reaction to AILES was one of amazement at the fact one so young would be assigned such a responsible and demanding position. However, appointee's brilliance, extraordinary competence, warm and engaging personality, and efficiency and the obvious respect in which he was held by his associates on that show convinced CERF appointee, off camera, unquestionably was the prime mover and guiding force behind the success of the show. As a result, CERF retains the highest personal regard and confidence in appointee's character, loyalty, reputation and associates. CERF indicated his relationship with AILES has been a professional one; he is not acquainted with AILES' family members.

CERF noted AILES, in 1968, left "The Mike Douglas Show" to become President RICHARD M. NIXON's television man during the 1968 presidential campaign. In January, 1969, AILES set up his own independent television production firm, REA Productions, Incorporated, 888 Eighth Avenue, and continues so engaged as its president.

As an example of the tremendous respect he holds for appointee, volunteered CERF, he invested $5,000.00 in REA Productions, Incorporated. CERF, laughing, then expressed the hope President NIXON has nothing in mind which would take AILES away from REA Productions, Incorporated, and, thereby, jeopardize his, CERF's, investment.

CERF voiced unequivocal support relative to appointee's consideration for a position with the United States Government.

It is noted aforementioned Mr. BENNETT A. CERF is listed by the appointee as a reference.

NY 161-3131

Neighborhood

Suite 7-F
888 Eighth Avenue
New York, New York

Mr. [] captioned address, here 4 years, disclosed on May 15, 1969, ROGER EUGENE AILES rented Suite 7-F in this primarily residential building in January, 1969 and continues to occupy it as office space for REA Productions, Incorporated, an independent television production company which he heads. The office staff of REA Productions, Incorporated consists of two female employees, one AILES' secretary, the only employee who appears here daily. AILES' himself appears here irregularly to conduct business and appears to travel extensively in connection with business. It is [] understanding AILES maintains a permanent residence outside New York City, location not known, and remains overnight on occasion in Suite 7-F when business appointments in this area require his remaining in the city.

b7C -4

As a result of the contacts he has experienced with AILES since January, 1969, continued [] he has been most favorably impressed with AILES as a pleasant, extremely personable and businesslike, surprisingly young, thoroughly respectable man whose behavior and expressions have indicated possession of excellent character, loyalty, reputation and associates.

b6 -4
b7C -4

[] volunteered the information he is aware AILES was associated with President RICHARD M. NIXON during the presidential campaign of 1968. He noted, too, as a result of his functioning as doorman at this address, [] he is aware that, since January, 1969, a number of diverse political figures, whom he described as United States Senators of both parties, names not recalled, and Mr. MARIO PROCACCINO, the recent victor in the New York City Democratic Party's mayoral primary election, have appeared for daytime business appointments with AILES in his Suite 7-F office.

b6 -4
b7C -4

[] explained he offered the last information only to support his personal belief that appointee, still a very young man, "must be something special" to have such individuals soliciting his professional services.

ROGER AILES

Roger Ailes, president of Ailes Communications, Inc., has been a leading communications consultant since 1968. He is one of television's most respected producers, a communications adviser to political leaders, a consultant to corporate executives, and an award-winning theatrical producer.

As a political media adviser, Ailes has advised and helped elect many candidates for state and national office, including 15 current United States Senators. Ailes served as Senior Media Adviser to the George Bush for President campaign and several other 1988 races. From 1969-1970 he held the position of White House Communications Consultant. In 1984, President Ronald Reagan's campaign signed Ailes as political media adviser to help create their advertising, and he coached the President before his critical second debate with Walter Mondale.

Ailes' services for business executives include public presentation training and counseling designed to improve the communications skills of corporate chairmen and senior management in high visibility forums, such as news media interviews, stockholder and board meetings, Congressional testimony and addresses to key industry groups. His clients include American Express, AT&T, the American Bankers Association, Johnson & Johnson, McGraw-Hill, McKinsey & Company, Sara Lee and many more. Ailes is the author, with his colleague Jon Kraushar, of You Are the Message: Secrets of the Master Communicators (published by Dow Jones-Irwin and also produced on audio cassette by Simon & Schuster), selected as one of the "year's best" by The Wall Street Journal.

In television, Ailes is best known as the executive producer of the NBC "Tomorrow Show" and the nationally syndicated "Mike Douglas Show," which won two Emmy Awards under Ailes' supervision. In 1984, Ailes produced "Television and the Presidency," a two-hour nationally syndicated special hosted by Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Theodore H. White. He has also produced and directed several prime-time entertainment specials starring Pearl Bailey, Liberace, Johnny Mathis, Don Rickles, and a series of ten 90-minute specials with Steve Allen. Ailes produced the Broadway musical "Mother Earth" in 1972, followed by "The Hot-l Baltimore" in 1973, an off-Broadway show which ran for three years and won 10 major awards, including the Drama Critics Circle Award for Best American Play of 1973.

Roger Ailes is a native of Warren, Ohio, and a graduate of Ohio University. He began his career as a prop boy and floor manager at a Cleveland television station, and within a year was promoted to producer/director. Ailes currently serves as Republican political commentator on NBC-TV's "Today Show." He is frequently a featured guest on many television news and public affairs programs.

AILES stated that the guests for the Tomorrow Show on March 2, 1981, were PAT COOPER, a comedian; RALPH SALERNO, an "Expert" on the Mafia; LEO SAYER, singer; and a previously videotaped segment by columnist RONA BARRETT. The Tomorrow Show is taped at 5:30 P.M. each afternoon and the audience is allowed to enter the studio at 5:00 P.M. A section of the videotape of the March 2, 1981 Tomorrow Show was viewed by interviewing Agents. The segment viewed concerned the interview of RALPH SALERNO. The content of the interview concerned the field of Organized Crime and included some references to recent political appointments having alleged Mafia connections.

AILES stated that JODIE FOSTER or ROBERT DE NIRO have never been guests on the Tomorrow Show. This information was verified by the Program Analysis Department, NBC.

Also interviewed was [redacted] NBC, 30 Rockefeller Center, NYC. [redacted] stated that the Tomorrow Show studio seats approximately 110 persons. She further stated that there would be no way to determine if subject was in the audience on March 2, 1981. The normal routine is that the ushers take the tickets as the audience enters the studio, however, HINCKLEY may have been in possession of two tickets. [redacted] stated that tickets are distributed by mail and are also handed out to the general public on the day of each taping. Each ticket is numbered and [redacted] added that if the numbers on the back of the tickets in HINCKLEY's possession are low numbers, it would indicate that they were mailed out prior to the day of the taping. Stand-by tickets for the Tomorrow Show are also issued for use in the case of a vacancy in the studio. [redacted] described these Stand-by tickets as being large and blue in color.
